Section 2. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity to exempt specified personal information relating to current and former public defenders, assistant public defenders, criminal conflict and civil regional counsel, and assistant criminal conflict and civil regional counsel, as well as their spouses and children, from disclosure under the public-records laws of the state. In the course of representing defendants in criminal prosecutions, these attorneys routinely interact with individuals who have criminal records or who are currently engaged in or suspected of criminal activity. These attorneys also interact with the victims of crimes. In addition, criminal conflict and civil regional counsel and their assistants also provide representation in sensitive civil matters, such as those in which a person's parental rights may be terminated based on allegations of perpetrating abuse and neglect against a child. By providing legal representation in criminal and civil matters, these attorneys provide a valuable service. However, individuals may become disgruntled by the proceedings or the outcome of a criminal or civil case, which could result in these attorneys and their families becoming targets for acts of violence. Disclosure of the information protected by the public-records exemption created by this act would jeopardize the safety of these attorneys and their families. Therefore, it is a public necessity to exempt from disclosure the home addresses, telephone numbers, and photographs of current or former public defenders, assistant public defenders, criminal conflict and civil regional counsel, and assistant criminal conflict and civil regional counsel; the home addresses, telephone numbers, and places of employment of the spouses and children of such defenders or counsel; and the names and locations of schools and day care facilities attended by the children of such defenders or counsel.

Section 3. This act shall take effect July 1, 2010.

Approved by the Governor June 1, 2010.
