Section 2. (1) The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity to define the term “home addresses” for purposes of the public records exemptions for agency personnel information under s. 119.071(4)(d), Florida Statutes. The public records exemptions for agency personnel information protect identifying and location information of numerous types of personnel, including, but not limited to, current or former law enforcement officers, investigative personnel, state attorneys and prosecutors, public defenders, guardians ad litem, Supreme Court justices, various judges, and the spouses and children of such personnel. The Legislature has previously recognized that such personnel and their family members are at a heightened risk of physical and emotional harm from disgruntled individuals who have contentious reactions to actions taken by such personnel, or whose business or professional practices have come under scrutiny of such personnel, and, as a result, has enacted various public records exemptions. While home addresses of such personnel and their family members are already exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution, the current exemptions do not provide protection for various forms of descriptive property information that may be used on its own, or in conjunction with other information, to reveal the home addresses that otherwise should be protected from public disclosure. Therefore, the Legislature finds that it is a public necessity to specifically define the term “home addresses” so that the safety and privacy of various personnel and their family members are not compromised.

(2) The Legislature further finds that it is a public necessity that the home addresses, telephone numbers, dates of birth, and photographs of active or former civilian personnel employed by a law enforcement agency; the names, home addresses, telephone numbers, photographs, dates of birth, and places of employment of the spouses and children of such personnel; and the names and locations of schools and day care facilities attended by the children of such personnel be exempt from public records requirements. Existing law already provides that the identifying and location information of active or former civilian law enforcement personnel and their spouses and children are exempt from public records requirements. The amendment made by this act further specifies that any active or former civilian personnel employed by a law enforcement agency and their spouses and children are entitled to the protections of the public records exemption. The civilian personnel of law enforcement agencies perform a variety of important duties that ensure public safety and welfare and encourage safe and secure communities. As a result of such duties, these civilian personnel often come into close contact with individuals who not only may be a threat to those personnel, but who might also seek to take revenge against them by harming their spouses and children. The Legislature finds that modifying the public records exemption to apply to all active or former civilian personnel employed by a law enforcement agency and their spouses and children will serve the public interest by further ensuring the safety of such personnel.

Section 3. This act shall take effect July 1, 2019.

Approved by the Governor April 26, 2019.

Filed in Office Secretary of State April 26, 2019.
